Green gas: GMA signs biofuels bill into law

By Gil C. Cabacungan Jr.

PRESIDENT MACAPAGAL-ARROYO HAS signed the Biofuels Act of 2006 more than a month after Congress passed the landmark bill mandating the use of fossil fuel alternatives in all motor vehicles.

In a brief interview with reporters in Malacañang, Ms Arroyo said she signed the

Bush plan highlights

The president called for an increase of American involvement in Iraq, saying the Iraqis must take a larger role in both securing and reconstructing their country.

THE PRESIDENT ALSO CALLS FOR THE US TO:

- Increase force levels by 21,500 troops
- 10,000-12,000 troops to Baghdad to work with Iraqi forces
- 4,000 Marines to Anbar Province
- Include coalition brigade with each Iraqi army force
- Double US civilian worker force to coordinate reconstruction efforts; add to US diplomatic roster

THE IRAQI GOVERNMENT WILL/MUST:

- Share oil revenues with Iraqi citizens
- Hold elections this year, reform debaathification laws

Bush admits mistakes but plans troop buildup in Iraq

WASHINGTON—MOVING AGAINST WIDEspread antiwar passions among Americans and the advice of some top generals, President George W. Bush announced on Wednesday that he was increasing US troops in Iraq by 21,500 and that he erred by not ordering a military buildup there last year.

"The situation in Iraq is unacceptable to the American people, and it is unacceptable to me," Bush said in a televised speech at the White House. "Where mistakes have been made, the responsibility rests with me."

While most Republicans stood behind Bush, the buildup puts him on a collision course with the new Democratic Congress and pushes the American troop presence in Iraq toward its highest level.

Two of the most prominent Democrats considering a run for the White House, Democratic Senators Barack Obama and Hillary Clinton, said Bush was offering the wrong plan and called for pressure to change that approach.

Both senators said Bush should respond to voters' concerns about the unpopular war.

Bush, however, said that "to step back now would force a collapse of the Iraqi government, tear that country apart and result in mass killings on an unimaginable scale."

Brains of Mindanao bombings identified

By Gil C. Cabacungan Jr.

PRESIDENT MACAPAGAL-ARROYO YESTERDAY ordered a manhunt for a former operations chief of the Moro Islamic Liberation Front (MILF) who was allegedly behind the bombings in Mindanao that the Armed Forces chief of staff acknowledged "embarrassed" the administration on the eve of the Asean summit.

In an interview with reporters in Malacañang, AFP Chief of Staff Gen. Hermogenes Esperon said the military had identified the mastermind behind the attacks as "Usman Basit" based on the distinctive style of the "wiring" of the bombs used in the attacks on Wednesday night in the cities of Cotabato, General Santos and Kidapawan. The blasts left seven people dead and 40 others wounded.

"He used to be with the MILF and we like to think he is now working with terrorist groups, like the JI (Jemaah Islamiyah) and the Abu Sayyaf," said Esperon.

He said the attacks were a "diversionary tactic" after the Abu Sayyaf suffered reverses in the military campaign in Tawi-Tawi province that last week killed seven militants.

Esperon said he briefed Ms Arroyo yesterday morning on the results of the military's investiga-

'The show will go on': Asean leaders start arriving

By Volt Contreras

CEBU CITY—SOUTHEAST Asian leaders began arriving here yesterday for a summit to forge a common front against terrorism and poverty, a day after deadly bomb attacks hit three cities in Mindanao.

"The show will go on," Foreign Secretary Alberto Romulo said hours after blasts hit the Central Mindanao cities of General Santos, South Cotabato and Kidapawan, North Cotabato on Wednesday night.

Singapore Foreign Minister George Yeo said "terrorism is always a concern and we must always ensure security." But he added that "we have full confidence in our host."

The 16 leaders taking part in the annual meeting of the Association of Southeast Asian Nations (Asean) and the larger East Asia Summit are arriving as scheduled, Ambassador Marciano Paynor told reporters yesterday at the Cebu International Convention Center.

"These bombings are completely isolated incidents that do not relate to the summit meetings," said Paynor, secretary general of the summit's national organizing committee (NOC).

He said the summit venues and VIP routes in Cebu remained safe and secure, without any changes being made to the event schedules.

In his briefing last Wednesday, Romulo said "I have been told that everything is safe and secure here in the Asean and East Asian summits."

"Whether there is (a) happening in other parts (of the country), the military reported to me that we have an ongoing operation against the JI (Jemaah Islamiyah militants) and other terrorists."

Meeting reporters at the Shangri-La Mactan, the main venue of the top-level meetings, Romulo said the bombings, as explained to him by the Armed Forces, "were part of the retalia-

Now, it's word of Erap vs Mark on Impsa deal

1999: ON AN OFFICIAL visit to Argentina, President Estrada was informed by senior officials of his host country that they remained interested in pursuing the Impsa project.

By Cynthia D. Balana

IT'S NOW THE WORD OF FORmer Manila Rep. Mark Jimenez against that of deposed President Joseph Estrada.

Jimenez yesterday directly linked Estrada to the $450-million contract to rehabilitate a power plant won by an Argentine firm, which is being linked to the extortion case Jimenez filed against former Justice Secretary Hernando Perez.

The Argentine firm was Industrias Metalurgicas Pescarmona Sociedad Anonima (Impsa).

In an interview with the Inquirer, Jimenez said Estrada endorsed the contract to the office of then Secretary of Justice Artemio Tuquero where it was overtaken by the events of Edsa II that led to Estrada's ouster.

But Estrada, through his spokesperson, Rufus Rodriguez, denied on Wednesday that he was involved in the bribery issue. The former President noted that it was Jimenez who had brokered the contract and had given $2 million to Perez.

Joining the fray, Sen. Luisa "Loi" Estrada, the wife of the former President, said Jimenez had badgered Estrada up to his last days in Malacañang to approve the contract.

Acting on Jimenez's complaint,

RP racked up $2.6B in net 'hot money' in '06

FDIs registered in first 10 months of last year also up 75% to $1.96B

Shares close 0.37% lower

By Doris C. Dumlao

THE COUNTRY RAKED IN $2.6 billion in net "hot money" inflows in 2006, up by 24 percent from the $2.1 billion posted a year ago, mainly due to foreign investors' aggressive buying of local stocks.

Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas Governor Amando Tetangco Jr. yesterday reported that gross foreign portfolio investments registered with the monetary institution totaled $7.98 billion. This was higher than the capital outflows which amounted to $5.37 billion.

The strong inflow of foreign portfolio investments, or funds placed in local stocks, bonds and bank products—often referred to as "hot money" due to their volatile nature—helped lift the peso to six-year highs. The currency rallied 7.6 percent, closing at

Mad about plaid

VISIONS OF A STRONG AND muscular Mel Gibson as William Wallace (remember "Braveheart"?) in a belted kilt come to mind at the mention of the words "tartan" or "plaid". Images of Prince Charles in more traditional, dressier versions of the kilt come to mind, as well.

Apples Aberin-Sadhwani

Plaid has undeniably become a symbol and emblem of Scotland and Scottish culture. During the middle ages, warring clans in the Scottish Highlands wore the pattern. These days, pampered princes who rule all of England wear it, too.

From a totally different viewpoint, plaid may translate to nothing more than a new pattern of checked designs, but thanks to designers like Alexander McQueen, brands like Burberry, and style icons like Victoria Beckham, who was recently spotted wearing a tartan skirt, the design is used and worn in [illegible] more fashionable ways.

Plaid is especially [illegible] this season, as [illegible] pick up on the pattern in various forms—from [illegible] to [illegible] skirts and [illegible] dresses. The checked pattern which comes in different colors and combinations can even be worn in the form of [illegible] pants. [illegible]
